

Inlandia Institute Creative Writing Workshops at the San Bernardino Public Library

The Inlandia Institute is pleased to announce the launch of the newest Creative Writing Workshop in partnership with the Feldheym Central Library in San Bernardino. Upcoming dates and times for the free workshop this fall are from 3:30 pm - 5:30 pm on Tuesdays; September 23, October 7, October 21, November 4, and November 18. These writing workshops will continued to be offered seasonally every fall, winter, and spring. The Feldheym Library is located at 555 West 6th Street in San Bernardino. The workshops will be held in Kellogg Room A.

Led by professional writers and writing instructors, the Inlandia Institute Creative Writing Workshops are designed to meet the needs of writers working in all genres at all levels. Andrea Fingerson will be leading this new and exciting workshop in San Bernardino.

Each workshop series is approximately 10 weeks long, meeting every other week. Workshops are free and open to the public, but registration is required. Please RSVP to cati.porter@inlandiainstitute.org. Registration forms will be emailed prior to and/or distributed during the first session.

While these workshops are free and open to the public, in order to keep them that way, we do ask that you consider an optional but suggested donation of $25 for the entire 10-week series. Information about why this is necessary is included in the registration packet.

Andrea Fingerson has taught preschool, reading, and high school English. Currently, she teaches Child Development classes to teen parents. She received her MFA in Fiction from CSUSB. During that time she was a Fiction Editor for Ghost Town and the High School Outreach Coordinator for The Pacific Review. She is a member of SCBWI and is currently in the process of editing a young adult novel.
