

The Feldheim Central Library will be a “Come Write In” Center
For National Novel Writing Month (NaNoWriMo)
In November

The Feldheim Central Library will be a “Come Write In” center for participants in NaNoWriMo this year. Beginning on Wednesday November 5, the Feldheim Library will be open for NaNoWriMo writers. Drop in any time between 11:00 am and 5:00 pm. Bring your pen & paper or laptop and work on your novel in the company of other writers. Caffeine will be provided. These “Come Write In” events will be every Wednesday in November from 11:00 am-5:00 pm.

NaNoWriMo is shorthand for National Novel Writing Month, a worldwide celebration of creative writing that counted 500,000 writers in its 15th year in 2013. The end goal for NaNoWriMo participants is to write a novel of at least fifty thousand words between 12:01 AM on November 1st and 11:59 PM on November 30th. Quantity is emphasized over quality; the idea is not to produce the Next Great American Novel, but simply to get one’s brain rolling by building characters, plots and ideas for one month to see what develops.

NaNoWriMo is for everyone: elementary and secondary students who would like to improve their writing skills, armchair scribes who have always wanted to try their hand at fiction, and even published professionals.

The “Come Write In” will be held in Kellogg Room A at the Norman F. Feldheim Central Library at 555 W. 6th Street in San Bernardino. For more information call 909-381-8238 or visit www.sbpl.org
